ADVERTISEMENT.

This Catalogue had been published some time ago, had not the Multiplicity of Matters, Persons and Places, made the compiling the INDEX, a Work of a Tedium, as well as a Laborious Nature.

The Reader is desired to correct with his Pen the Literal Mistakes he shall observe therein, and to add a * to the 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131 and 132 Pages, under the Signatures of (Ll) and (Mm) which by Mistake happen to be repeated, that the References thereto in the INDEX may be more easily found.

He is desired likewise to take Notice, That the Histoire des Indes Occidentales. A. D. 1622. And the Bullarium Romanum. A. D. 1633. out of which several Extracts are mentioned in the CATALOGUE, which were through Haste omitted to be inserted therein, are to be found in the AVCTARIAUM, wherein are likewise inserted in a fuller Manner, the Sixth Article of Page 62, and the Seventh Article of pag. 185. And that in the POSTSCRIPT there are inserted the Titles of Seven Books, which are already in the Societies Possession.

(*) There:
There are likewise in the Auctarium, several Extracts of a Treatise, the Title of which is not inserted there, but is as follows:

Strange News from the Indies or East-India Passages further discovered August in Jubilee, 1650; as partly discovering the Manner and Tenour of our East-India Trade hitherto; together with Part of the woful and sad Sufferings of William Courten, Esq; written for Information, Confirmation, and Confutation; by a constant Well-willer, and continual Sufferer for Truth, and Publick Good. J. D. [viz. John Darel,] therein imploring and intimating to all in Authority, and others for speedy Justice, and right Understanding in Judgment and Practice, and by Principles, and grounded Reasons, pointing at a Foundation and Regulation of that hitherto much abused East-India Trade, so vast, spacious, necessary, and of extraordinary high Concernment; to enrich and advance Kingdoms and Common Wealths, being the Trade of Trades, the Magazine of Merchandizers, the Honour of Nations, and the Glory of this World. London for Stephen Bontel, 1652, 4th. pag. 39. [Ex Dono, Robert Watts, L.L. B.]

I humbly presume to suggest, That this Catalogue may serve for several good Purposes, besides those mentioned by the generous Donor in the Dedication: As,

First, That either the Government in general, or private Proprietors in particular, may find therein Instructions for encouraging People to transplant themselves to their Colonies and Plantations.

Secondly,
Secondly, That the Accounts of Companies inserted herein, may be a means of either reviving some old ones, or of forming new ones.

Thirdly, The Government may hence form Instructions to be given to such as they employ in Expeditions, and Merchants to such as they shall employ in Voyages at their Charge.

Fourthly, Merchants may learn from thence to meet together, and give God Thanks in a Publick Manner, on the News of the Arrival of any of their Ships, by having Sermons preach'd to them suitable to such Occasions, according to the Example of Mr. Terry's. A. D. 1649.

Fifthly, Travellers may from the Examples mentioned in this Catalogue, learn to take God's Blessing along with them, by hearing from some Godly Minister or other a Farewell Sermon of which Sort are Mr. Featly's to Sir Tho. Warner and his Company bound to the West-Indies, for their Farewell on Sept. 6. 1629. and Mr. Hardy's, occasion'd by the Voyage of Nathan. Wych, Esq; President to the East-Indies. A. D. 1658.

Sixthly, This Catalogue may induce publick-spirited Persons, to pick up such Tracts as are mentioned herein, and throw them into the Society's Store, that thereby the Society may henceforward be able to furnish their Missionaries with Accounts of the Places they are sent to.

All I shall add, is, my hearty Wishes of Success to this, and all other good Designs, which tend to the Advancement of the Glory of God, and the Honour of our Church and Nation.

To the Worthy

ESTABLISHED

For Propagation of the Gospel

FOREIGN PARTS.

Having had the Honour to be nominated among Others a Member of your Society, in the Royal Charter for Institution of it in the Year 1701. I have from that Time thought my self obliged (as far as my private mean Abilities could serve) to labour and assist in promoting your great Designs of Doing Good. For we must acknowledge this to be a Christian Duty and Debt, That in our several Stations We All owe unto God and our Neighbour, and must one day give Account of our Discharge or Neglect of it, according to the Powers and Opportunities we had in this Life. A daily Duty, that when honestly and willingly perform’d, brings along with it so much Comfort and Satisfaction in our Mortal State, as to give a Pledge and Foretaste of its greater Reward Above.

I had the farther Honour of receiving your Commands for drawing up some ACCOUNT of this Society, with their Proceeding seedings and Success in 1706, which you have since thought fit to be enlarged, and brought down to the present time. In pursuit of those Orders, the better to discharge my Trust, I had occasion to pick up several Tracts and Papers relating to the General Subject of the Propagation of the Gospel, Conversion of Infidels, Institution of the College at Rome de propaganda Fide, Missions of the Monks and Jesuites, Methods of the Inquisition, &c. But more especially to the particular Affairs of America, the first Discovery of those Regions sufficient to be called A New World, the several Expeditions and Voyages made to every Coast and Port and River, the Advances and Settlements there made, the Tyranny and Cruelty of the Spaniards in Mexico and Peru, their Baptizing in Blood, and then teaching a Religion of such outward Pomp and Ceremony, as was very little different from the Pagan Idolatry. Above All, I sought for the Relations and Journalls of our own Countrymen upon those Seas and Coasts, their Discoveries and Observations, their Settlement of Plantations and Colonies, their Improvements in Trade and Strength, their Conversation with the Natives, and their Endeavours to bring them over to Civility and Religion.

Upon this View, my Curiosity by degrees encreas’d the little Stock, and brought me in a tolerable Connexion of Books and Papers, relating to those Arguments. And because I saw an Affinity of other Matters, and a sort of necessary Dependence of Things and Places upon one another; I proceeded to gather up some of the chief Tracts, of antient and modern Geography, of Astronomical Observations, of Experiments in Hydrography, of Shipping, and the progress of Navigation, of Commerce and Exchange, of War, Peace, and Embassies, of Voyages and Travels to all Parts of the World, especially to Africa and the East-Indies, that chiefly supply our Traffick to America.

I found some Difficulty in making a small Collection of this Kind, especially in getting up the lesser Tracts and single Papers; which I thought therefore, if once dispers’d and carry’d back into various Hands, would be harder to recollect and put together
DEDICATION.

Together again. For this Reason I preserv'd them, and within my own Intentions all along devoted them to your publick Use and Service. I now humbly offer them to your Acceptance and Custody, to be reposed in such a Place, and under such Directions, as the President and Society shall think fit to appoint by any standing Rules and Orders: Which I submit to their Judgment, and would not seem to prescribe my own Opinion in the Disposal of them. Only I wish the Place to be allotted for them, may be capable of containing a much larger Accession of Volumes, Globes, Maps, &c. that no doubt will be soon brought in by other Hands. However, I do hereby engage for the Delivery of my little Store (according to this printed Catalogue) upon demand made on me or my Assigns, as soon as there is yet apart any such convenient Room or Place for the Reception and safe Custody of the said Books and Papers, for the continual Use and Benefit of this Corporation and their Successors for ever.

I have often thought with some Regret, on the want of proper Evidences and Memoirs for us to have recourse to, as the Nature and Occasions of our Foreign Business may require. I hope the World will so interpret this Omission and Defect in us, as to believe that we took more care of others abroad, than of our selves at home; and had sent over several little Libraries for the Use of our Missionaries, and their People in those distant Parts, before we thought of providing for our own nearer Accommodation: And let it be consider'd, that the constant Demands of our Aid and Assistance for Churches, Missionaries, Schools, Books, and other Exigencies, have been so great and pressing, that they have for several Years taken up more than our ordinary Income, and before this time we must have contracted our Expences and Designs, if Her Majesty in Her Pious Disposition had not extended Her Royal Favours to us. Nor have we been hitherto able to afford our selves a common Place to meet in, but have ow'd that Convenience to the generous Care and Kindness of the President, our continual Friend and Benefactor.

Hence
Hence the providing of a Select Library for the Propagation of the Gospel, seems of necessity to be assign'd over to another Age, unless some unexpected Friend and Patron shall arise up to our present Relief, and by charitable Gift or Legacy, supply us with a Stock sufficient for the Establishment and Maintenance of it. To keep up the Hopes of finding such a pious Founder and Benefactor, and to excite some worthy Man of Wealth and publick Spirit, I have here form'd a rude Scheme of what may be done, and offer a little toward the Beginning of it.

Where any publick Work is visibly wanting, it is an honest Labour to bring in some Materials towards laying the Foundation; and so to leave the raising and finishing Part to longer Time, and more able Workmen. The Truth is, for any single Person to undertake the founding a complete Library, requires a Genius, as well as a Fortune, above the common fort of Mankind, a Bodley, a Tenison, or some such superior Spirit of Piety, Learning, and Liberality.

However, as the drawing of one Furrow was formerly the Designation of a City, so I hope this rude Draught may direct a little to the raising, furnishing, and endowing a full and perfect American Library, to contain all sorts of Books, Charts, Maps, Globes, Instruments, and other Utensils, that can possibly tend to the more exact Survey and Knowledge of the Earth and Seas, and Heavenly Bodies; and to be more especially stock'd with such Discourses, Letters, Journals, and other Instructions, as may best serve for the Conduct of our Missionaries, the Help of Mariners and Merchants, the Information of Strangers, and the Entertainment of all Persons, who wish well to the Propagation of our Faith, and to the Trade and Commerce of our Country, among All Nations.

I might easily suggest, that the Library here projected would serve to many excellent Purposes. Our own Members would be all glad to be better inform'd of the Air and Soil, the Manners and Customs, the Product and Trade, the Government and Religion of those Provinces, committed in Charity to our peculiar Charge. And when the special Books and Papers Papers are near at hand, they will often make it their business and pleasure, to satisfy their Curiosity and improve their Knowledge in the Affairs intrusted to them. And the consequence would be, that the more perfectly they understood the State of those Countries and People, they would be the better affected to do them good, and more able to advise and resolve on the best methods of so doing. Such a conveniency of Books and Writings with an easy Access to them would be our School and General Study, would instruct and improve us in our noble Profession of seeking and labouring to propagate the Gospel of CHRIST.

In many of our Meetings and Committees, there arise in course such Questions and Debates, as are best decided by an Appeal to the authority of particular Tracts or Maps or Writings; and if they are within our Search and View upon any such emergent occasion, it will save trouble and needless Altercation and bring the Matters in question to an easy and effectual Issue. We can direct our Consultations, govern our Resolves, and answer all the Addresses and Proposals made to us with more certainty and expedition, when we have our Evidences open, and as it were the proper Oracles before us.

A resort to this variety of Books and Papers would be of some considerable use and service to other Bodies of Men. The Honourable Commissioners for Trade and Plantations might here upon occasion command a Transcript of some valuable Notices of things that come immediately before them. Articles and Agreements made for Commerce and Exchange of Goods, Petitions for Equity and Right, Answers of Decision and Redress, Orders, Instructions, Reports, and many other Acts of mutual Correspondence between our Government here, and our English Colonies in those Parts; Of which uncommon kind, great numbers are to be found even in this poor Collection, and a more abundant Stock will I hope be soon added to it.

The Honourable Lords of the ADMIRALTY will please to observe, that they may have Searches here made for Commissions, missions, Sailing Orders, Secret Instructions, Relations of Sea-fights, Descents, Retreats, &c. Proceedings in Courts Martial, and other Maritime Affairs, of which nature Many are here preserv’d and Many may be daily recover’d, which would perhaps otherwise be lost for ever. So likewise the Judges; the Advocates, and Proctors concern’d in the Court of AD
DEDICATION.

MIRALTT might here find some of the oldest Precedents for Letters of Marque and Reprizal, Trials for Piracy and Depredation; Compacts for Freight and Passage; Allowances for Demorage, Averidge, and other Contributions; Policies of Assurance, Bills of Exchange; Complaints, Proceedings, Sentences, Appeals, and like Forms and Methods in Maritime Causes under the cognizance of that High and Ancient Court.

Nay the Historian, the Herald, and other Remembrancers of worthy Names and Families, may here find a Foundation, as it were, established upon the Floods, to many noble Houses, that have sprung from brave Adventurers and Commanders at Sea, who loved their Nation and did Honour to it, by spreading the Terroir of our Arms, and bringing home Spoils and Trophies in Wealth and Glory to the Publick and themselves. Such were the immortal Names of Patriots, HAWKINS, DRAKE, FROBISHER, RALEGH, CAVENDISH, SOMERS, &c.

And the greatest Ministers of State, might please to think, that such a Repository of Books and Papers of Navigation and Commerce might at one time or other be of some advantage in the most arduous Affairs of these Kingdoms: Particularly in asserting our Dominion of the Seas, in keeping up the wonted Superiority of English Fleets and Navies, in securing and encouraging our Fishery and our Manufactures, in forming and maintaining our Treaties and Alliances; there being already put into this imperfect Collection the greatest part of the ARTICLES of Peace and Amity, Alliance and Commerce, that have been made between this Crown and other States and Princes from the Beginning of K. James I. to the present Times: All in their first Editions publish’d by Authority, more correct than the later Recapitulations of them. To these are added many many private Papers of Negotiations and Intrigues, Cautions and Recoveries, Secret Articles, and other Political Mysteries, that may be turn'd and applied to some Use and Service at one time or other.

And in a narrower Sphere, all our English Companies establisht for Trade and Commerce, to the East-Indies, to the Levant Seas, to Africa, to Russia, to Hudson's-Bay, &c. might here find a great many Treaties and Memorials relating to their peculiar Affairs; and perhaps of such Weight and Importance to them as may encourage each Company to lay the like Foundation of a Singular Library for all Books and Writings and Remains whatever, that more immediately concern their own Body.

But especially the Governors and other Administrators of Justice in her Majesty's Plantations before they go from hence to take possession of their Charge, may the better qualify themselves, if they please to see what has been written about their peculiar Province: When the Discovery and Settlement was made, what the Laws and particular Constitutions are, what Good Names and sufficient Estates have been gotten by Justice and Moderation, what Examples of Ruin and Infamy to Tyrants and Oppressors, what Credit and Comfort in Governing always and every where According to Law.

However (what is our greatest Concern) the Benefit of Access to this American Library will be very convenient to our Missionaries, when first approved and retained by Us. For it is well known, that upon their Entrance into this Service of God and his Church in Foreign Parts, they are so uncertain of their transportation by the Stay of Ships, Change of Winds, and other casualties, that they have generally a void Space of time upon their hands, which they cannot better spend, than in such a sober studious Place, where they may enquire after the Country and People they are going to, and may in effect converse with them before they see them. They may at least pick up such intelligence and notices of the Seas and Coasts and Rivers, of the Planters and Merchants, of the Soil and Air, of the Latitude and Situation, as may not at their Landing there expose them to a perfectly New and Unknown World, and drop them altogether Strangers and Pilgrims in it. The better acquainted they are with that Sphere wherein they are to act, the better Figure they will make in it; All the odd appearances of Mankind are commonly owing to Ignorance and Surprize.

It might indeed take up their whole Time to study the One Necessary Thing, the Obligations of their Mission and the Duties and Difficulties of it; they will find here a good Collection of Discourses and Advices to that End and Purpose of recommending the wisest and most successful Methods of Propagating and Promoting the Gospel of Christ. But besides their knowledge of the General Duty, they must be let into the particular Disposition of the Country and Nation wherein they are to exercise their Mission, they must understand somewhat of the Constitution of that Government they are to live under, of the first Rise and following Advances of that Colony or Plantation that is to receive them, the Temper and Infirmities of the People, the present State of Letters and Religion among them, the most prevailing Errors and Divisions, and whatever else is most necessary to be known for their better discharge of the Care of those Souls. And as that Care is to extend toward the Negro Slaves and the Indian Natives, they might here examine the various Accounts that have been given by Eye-witnesses of their Genius and Capacity, their Notions and Manners, their Prejudices and their Obstinacy in them. And to enable themselves to converse a little with those ignorant Natives, they might here dip into the Indian Languages, or the chief Dialects of the Borderers on us, by turning over the several Essays of Grammar and Dictionary, that are here to be met with in one or more of those Tongues, and especially by examining The Indian Grammar, and The Indian Bible prepared and publish'd by the industrious and pious Mr. Elliot; with the Lord's Prayer, Creed, Commandments, short Catechisms, and other familiar Expositions of our common Articles of Faith, which have been printed in New-England under the Encouragement of Mr. Boyle and and the Corporation for the Propagation of the Gospel unto the Indians there adjoyning, and are most of them to be found in this Collection. Or if they have not time to run over the Books themselves, the very Catalogue however will supply them with the full Titles of Such, as they may procure to carry with them, or may leave or send a Commission for them.

They ought all to furnish themselves with such Tracts and Dissertations as recommend and explain the Great Duty of Planting the Gospel in All Nations, and direct the most effectual ways and means of bringing over the poor Pagan Souls to Christian Knowledge and Salvation. Of which excellent kind there be many here collected: Josephus Acofa de Promulgatione Evangelij apud Indos. 1596. De Legatione Evangelica ad Indos capessenda Admonitio Joisti Heurnij, cum Censura ac Judicio Ioannis Polyandri. 1618. Georgi Horni de Originibus Americanis. 1652. De Successu Evangelij apud Indos in Nova Anglia Epistola Crescentij Mathei ad D. Jo. Leusdenum, &c.- A Sermon of Mr. Symond’s before the Adventurers and Planters in Virginia for the Advancement of their Christian purpose. 1609. Mr. Price’s Sermon with a Reproof of those that traduce the Honourable Plantation of Virginia. 1609. Sermons of Mr. Cowper, Of the Gathering in of the Gentiles, with his Epistle to the Commissioners for Plantations. 1615. The Planters Plea or Grounds of Plantations examined. 1620. God’s Promise made to his Plantation by Mr. Cotton. 1625. Mr. Featly’s Sermon to Sir Thomas Warner and Company bound to the West-Indies. 1629. Mr. Casteil’s Petition to the Parliament for the Propagating of the Gospel in America. 1641. The Pagans Debt and Dowry by Mr. John Goodwyn. 1642. Dr. Hardy’s Pious Votary and Prudent Traveller. 1658. Mr. Thoroughgood’s Jews in America. 1660. Dr. Fletcher’s Israel Redux. 1677. The Negroes and Indians Advocate, by Mr. Godwyn. 1680. 8vo. The same Mr. Godwyn’s Trade preferr’d before Religion. 1685. Dr. Bray’s Apostolick Charity. 1699. And the several Sermons Preached at the Anniversary Meetings of the Society. All which are so directly useful to every Missionary, that I wish they could be made a Part of the Library allowed to Him by the Society. To supply the want want of that Accommodation, it seems the more necessary, that every intended Missionary should know where and how to look into them, and to draw out such Notes and Observations, as may especially remind 'em and assist 'em when they come Abroad. It is certain, that a Man of Conscience with his Thoughts upon the Indies may here prosecute his preparatory Studies with so much advantage and delight, that it would not be amis, if all our Missionaries were oblig'd hereafter by a Standing Order to take a previous Course of Studies in this Library for some Weeks before their Expedition.

For their fuller Information, I have cast in a good number of those Narratives and controversial Letters which the Jesuites and other Orders call'd Religious in the Church of Rome have publish'd to the World concerning their Labours and Successes (as they represent them) in spreading their New Gospel throughout the East-Indies, Ethiopia, Congo, Tartary, and other Infidel Parts; and especially of the Diffimulation and Bigotry of the Jesuites in China; where they have made themselves Idolaters, instead of turning Men from Idols to serve the Living God. Together with all the Accounts I could gather up of the Society De propaganda Fide establish'd at Rome, first instituted and all along employed rather to convert Hereticks than Pagan Unbelievers, and therefore a standing Part of the Inquisition, that Court which they call Holy, and think the Proceedings Most Christian, when Nothing upon Earth can be more opposite to Christ and his holy Religion. I have added the Accounts of the Propagation of the Gospel in the East by the Danish Missionaries and some Relations of the Care of the States and Companies of the United Provinces in settling Ministers of the Reformed Religion within their Colonies and Factories in the East-Indies: And lastly, the Progress in some good Designs of promoting Christian Knowledge and true Devotion among the Papists in Ireland, the Ignorant Sort in the High-Lands of Scotland, in Wales, &c. because these Matters are all in a connexion and dependance upon our Office of Propagating the Gospel.
Among the Uses to be made of this AMERICAN LIBRART, I ought not to forget that it is capable of becoming the common Fund and Treasury of all the Remains of that Country, and of all the following Discoveries and Remarks that shall be hereafter made upon it. In such a fix'd Repository, some modest Mariners and Travellers may lay up their own Notes and Observations, who being diffident of their own Performance, and afraid of a critical World, would not suffer those Essays to appear in Publick. And even the most exact and perfect Writers would perhaps be equally pleased to deposit here their Journals and Itineraries, that for want of due encouragement, they could not get printed in their life-time, and yet would not have Posterity deprived of the knowledge and intelligence to be received from them. This however would be a convenient Place to preserve and dispose in order the several Letters and loose Papers that come so frequently from our Friends and Correspondents in those Parts; and all the Descriptions and Accounts that every Missionary might be desired or enjoined to give of the particular District committed to him, relating not only to the State of Religion, but to the Natural History of those Ends of the Earth, of the Climates, Soils, Seasons, Winds, Tides, Waters, &c. of the Animals, Vegetables, Minerals, Fossiles, &c. of the Manufactures, Inventions, Commodities, and whatever may conduce to the better Cultivation and Improvement of those vast Regions, and the Trade with them.

To direct a Missionary in the Method of doing this Service to the World, there be very good Advices and Instructions given by Dr. Robert Hooke in his Preface to the Historical Relation of CETLON by Mr. Robert Knox, 1681. 4to. and by Mr. Boulton in his General Heads for the Natural History of a Country, for the sake of those who go beyond Seas, 1700. 8vo. and in other Tracts dispersed in this Collection.

I only hint at these things in my Affection to our common Cause of serving God and our Country. The Improvement of any Suggestion here made, and the offer of mature Thoughts I leave to the Judgment of the Society, and the Discretion of any Member. In the mean time I doubt not, but that this imperfect Foundation will by degrees arise up into a consummate Building. Some Royal Bounty, or some other Noble Beneficence will provide a convenient Site and Structure for Us; Some pious Gifts and Legacies will be daily encroasing our Store of Books, Papers, Charts, Maps, and other Literary Merchandise. Then some one or other Publick Spirit will found a Librarian's Place, and assign a competent Salary or Support to it. Some other Endowments and Conditions will be settled for Agents and itinerant Correspondents to procure and transmit thither all manner of Draughts, Figures and other Representations of the things of Nature and Art: And especially to pick up all the written Journals of Voyages, Travels, and Adventures; all the Descriptions of Coastings, Bearings, Soundings, Sands, Shelves, Rocks, Tides, and all manner of Observations and Experiments now lying in a thousand private Hands of Mariners, Merchants, Strangers, and perhaps Widows, Orphans, and Executors, who understand nothing of them, and would take but little care to preserve them from Fire or other Consumption.

It was a Glory done to this Nation by Mr. HAKLETT and Mr. PURCHAS (both Clergymen of the Church of England) that they spared no Pains or Cost, to hunt after and gather up a great variety and plenty of such Journals and Maritime Papers, which had otherwise long before this time been wrecked and lost for ever. Mr. Robert Ashley, in his Dedication of the Extracts of COCHIN CHINA to Sir Maurice Abbot Governor of the Honourable Company of Merchants trading to the East-Indies. 1633. concludes thus. "I could wish, that as the remote Navigation published by the Venetian Rhasmus awakened the Industry of Mr. HAKLETT and happily of Mr. PURCHAS after him, to their diligent Gatherings of the most remarkable Voyages of our Nation: So some other able Person (of which our Country hath good Store) were encouraged and stirred up to continue such Collections. Yet not only to the recording the Exploits of our own Nation; but also to collect and publish what what they find worth the regarding amongst Foreigners, that may any way be serviceable for the instruction of Ours.

Now if such a common Bank or Treasury of Papers were once fix'd and establish'd in this Great City, I doubt not but many worthy Persons would be casting into it some or other valuable Remains, that would not otherwise outlive the prefent Possessor of them. Heirs and Executors are very apt to think Manuscripts and loose Papers to be a sort of Refuse not worth the keeping; and therefore if they could hear of any proper Office to receive them, they would transmit them thither for Acknowledgment and Thanks, or at least for some other small Consideration. There be now living many industrious Collectors of Voyages and Travels, Navigation, Commerce, &c. who probably after their Decease would not trust them to the custody of a careless Heir, or mercenary Administrator; but will be glad to hear of such a Publick Place as this, wherein they may be safely disposed and preserved with the Memory of their Donour. If such a curious and judicious Collector as Mr. PEPTYS had known of any such Design, it is very probable that He would have given all his laborious Effects that way, and they would in such manner have made a National Treasure to Posterity.

To raise and fill by degrees such a LITERARY BANK I willingly subscribe and am ready to pay in this little Stock of mine, to begin with. And to prevent all Deceit or Mistake, I think it proper to present you with this Printed Catalogue of the few several Books and Papers I have thus thrown together for your Use, that you may have the fuller title to them, and that you may see what great room is left for more ample Benefations of the like kind. In drawing the Catalogue, I have not only recited the general Titles of the distinct Volumes; but I have pointed at the particular Discourses, Letters, Instruments, and other eminent Acts contain'd in them; which I have likewise cast into a Chronological Series and Order of Succession, that so the bare Catalogue may be in Itself a sort of History of NAVIGATION and COMMERCE from the first Discovery of the New World to the present State of Things.

And
And I did this with another View and Desire, that the future Publishers of any Volumes of Voyages and Travels may observe such an orderly Method in the Connexion of their several Tracts according to Age and Time of Writing, which by such successive dependance and reference would give Light and Strength to One Another, and the Booksellers and Readers would be trading in a Chain of Pearls instead of a Rope of Sand. I intimate this with the more willing mind, because few Books are more entertaining and instructive to the World, than such various Collections, and because the most accurate Descriptions of Remote Parts are still confined to small single Tracts, or perhaps to short and loose Papers, written upon the Spot, as Things and Thoughts offer'd themselves to the Senses of the Writer: If these were digested and put together in their native Simplicity, they would make a better figure and serve to better purpose, than the elaborate Work of any one Author.

We might apply this to our immediate Province of America, of which the Coasts and Navigable Rivers, and All that relates to the Geography and Natural History of it, have been best described and accounted for by Eye-witnesses, who have sent or brought over the plain Narratives and Observations under their own hands. Now if a Collection of these separate Sheets were digested according to Time and Place, and so publish'd in a Set of larger Volumes, this would be of good Use and Service, and I hope therefore this Catalogue will lend some encouragement and help to it. For example, in this short Catalogue may be found about twenty original Tracts relating to Newfoundland; above fifty concerning Virginia; a hundred or more of New-England; and so on in proportion to our other Colonies and Plantations. Now if these were connected in due order of Place and Time, and fairly put into one or more Volumes, it would prevent the scattering and losing of many valuable Pieces, and tend much to encourage the reading and remembering of things of the nearest and most natural Importance to us.
DEDICATION.

If the flower Sale of such large Volumes would not encourage a common Undertaker; the Work might be the better done by some Publick Spirit. Supposing a Governour or Sea-Commander returning Rich from those foreign Parts, will be so generous and grateful as to bear the Charge of an Impression, with the most exact and beautiful Maps and Sculptures. A distinct Volume or two of NEW-ENGLAND, another of VIRGINIA, of CAROLINA, MARYLAND, or other Province according to the particular Relation that the noble Editor bears to it, who by this means may obtain Arms and Inscriptions of the truest honour, and may present his Books, as Princes do their Medals, to be had in perpetual remembrance by them.

I have only this in Justice and Charity to add, if I could have asked freely for a Contribution of Books or Money to this Design, I presume the Catalogue would have been much larger, and I might have raised this Attempt into some appearance of a Library. But my Intention was not so much to Beg, as to set a little Example of Giving. Only upon an occasional mention of this Design some Friends and Promoters of good Works readily cast in some Books, to the Titles whereof I have thought it honest to add the Donors Names. While the Press was working, I continued to gather up all the Reliques I could meet with of the like kind, and resolv'd not to be too much discouraged by those terrible Lets and Impediments of Doing Good, Trouble and Expence; and these additional Books and Papers I have cast into an Appendix or Accurarium at the end of the other; which in a following Impression may be inserted in the same View and Order. There is an INDEX of Persons and Matters drawn out by the care and pains of the Rev. Mr. Robert Watts, which may be of great use to the diligent Searcher after these things; as it brings the variety of Matters into one view, and directs the singular Use and Application of 'em.

But undoubtedly the best Use of the Catalogue will be this, if any Persons in running it over will please to remember, that they have any Books or Papers of this kind not herein after specified, Specified, or better Editions of those Books and Maps that are here inducted, and will then willingly transmit them to the Secretary or Treasurer, or other Member of the Society, to enrich and enlarge the common Stock.

I might possibly have improved this Collection by the purchase of a greater number of Memorials of the same nature, but that I was oblig'd to make it consistent with my Circumstances, and with another little Design of gathering together an Antiquarian and Historical Library for the use of a Cathedral Church, wherein some Progress is already made, and I hope in few years to finish and settle it for ever. There is something in Humane Nature that incites to Doing Good, and that noble Instinct is highly improv'd and promoted by the Powers of our Christian Religion. Every Minister of Christ is more especially obliged to follow the Great Master who went about Doing Good, and made it his usual Saying unto others, It is more blessed to Give than to Receive. If we thus chiefly employ our Time and other Talents, and unite and correspond in all manner of Beneficence, it will most effectually divert us from all the idle and the busie Humours that disturb the World, from Impertinence and Pragmaticalness, from Envy and Censure, Strife and Faction: It will by the Grace and Blessing of God make us by degrees of one Heart and of one Mind, in whatsoever Things are True, and make for Peace and Publick Good.

I am with all Duty and Respect
